

EDWARDS AFB SCHOOL LIAISON
RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS ONLY
SO CHECK US OUT!

Military Youth on the Move: You're moving again and you probably have a million questions: How am I going to leave my school? How can I say goodbye to my friends? Will I be able to make new friends? Will I like it there? Wondering about all of these things and even worrying about them are normal reactions to hearing that you have to move. The link below can help you figure out the answers to some of those tough questions so check this site out! <http://www.apps.mhf.dod.mil>

Moving Out Moving Up Moving On

Moving can be really exciting, but it can also be pretty hard. Do you worry about losing your old friends? Do you dread starting over at a new school? Do you wonder what you'll ever find to do there? If so, then you're not alone! This site was designed with you in mind, covering topics specifically for military youth, like dealing with deployment and moving to a new location, but also everyday youth topics, like dealing with divorce, getting enough exercise, and making money!

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

MIDDLE SCHOOL

High School

just for parents »

Face Book Group for Military Youth: <http://www.facebook.com>

Military Brats On-Line: This online magazine is dedicated to the unique life and experiences of U.S. Military Kids. Military Brat Life is written entirely by U.S. Military Brats, and includes essays and articles about military youth life, moving and school experiences: <http://www.militarybrats.net/home.php>

Military 'Brat' Web Resources:

The Internet has a wealth of Web sites military brats can use to connect with each other -- and outsiders can use for insight into the brat lifestyle. Here are some websites to check out:

- <http://www.militarybrats.com/> is home to Military Brats Online. The six-year-old site is a free resource designed to reconnect military brats with each other and their heritage. Its school alumni page at <http://www.militarybrats.com/alumni.shtml> uses pull-down menus to school alumni associations.
- <http://www.military-brats.com> is the Military Brats Registry, a way for brats to locate other brats from childhood, as well as articles by brats on aspects of the brat experience and links to other sites.
- <http://www.overseasbrats.com> is Overseas Brats, an organization founded in 1986. It is for U.S. citizens who have attended school overseas. It helps connect overseas high school alumni groups and also offers a discussion forum.

4-H supports military youth and families in many ways:

Since 1995, 4-H National Headquarters has worked in partnership with U.S. Army Child, Youth, and School Services (CYSS), Air Force Family Member Programs (FMP) and, beginning in 2007, Navy Child and Youth Programs (CYP) to extend 4-H to U.S. Military Families worldwide. With support of 4-H professionals, military staff and volunteers provide quality developmental programs for children in safe and nurturing environments so that military men and women can pursue their critical, high risk assignments.

4-H clubs provide "a slice of home" for military youth worldwide through quality educational experiences using research-based curricula for youth ages 5 -19. Military youth can become involved in 4-H and continue their 4-H work wherever they move when their parents are transferred or deployed. Visit our Edwards AFB Youth Programs for more information on 4-H clubs and programs.

More recently, community programs to support National Guard, Reserve and Accessions Command families have been added.

Fact Monster: Fact Monster is a free reference site for students, teachers, and parents. Get homework help and find facts on thousands of subjects, including sports. <http://www.factmonster.com>

Los Angeles Public Library "KIDS PATH": <http://www.lapl.org/kidspath>

Los Angeles Public Library "TEEN WEB": <http://www.lapl.org/ya/>

Free Tutoring Services: <http://www.tutor.com>

Soar at Home (Tutor help): <http://www.soarathome.org>

Library of Congress (for kids and families): <http://www.loc.gov/families/>

Smithsonian for Kids: <http://www.si.edu/Kids>

From Art to Zoo, the Smithsonian has something to interest kids and students of all ages. Begin your Smithsonian adventure by visiting some of the websites below.

Smithsonian Students » A place for Kids to explore discover and learn!

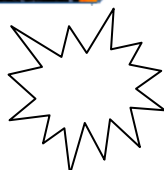

Encyclopedia Smithsonian: Kids' Favorites » Check out fun stuff to explore and do online!

Smithsonian Folk life Festival » Offers a variety of activities for families and children!

Smithsonian Education: <http://www.smithsonianeducation.org/students/>

HAVE FUN!

